The Desert Springs Spain

The Desert Springs Golf Resort is Europe's first and only Arizona style desert course. Situated on a plateau overlooking de Almanzora valley on the south east coast of Spain, the resort has become Spain's new golfing sensation. The contrast between the beautifully prepared and manicured areas and the arid yet vividly coloured desert makes it a truly unique golfing experience.

Confirmation of both the World Class quality of the Indiana Course and its Golf Academy and practice facilities has been proven through its selection by the English Golf Union as it's "Overseas Home", for which it provides practice facilities for its National squad members, and by the Royal Spanish Golf Federation, who selected Desert Springs to host the Spanish Amateurs Open in March 2004.

UNA VIDA DE CALIDAD
GOLF Y OCIO

Enhancing the golf, Desert Springs also offers the ideal solution for those looking to purchase property. From stylish apartments, town houses, country cottages and amazing fairway frontage individual country villas, all of which are as unique as the golf course itself.

Verandas, balconies and roof terraces have been specifically designed to overlook swimming pools and beautifully landscape gardens, ensuring that you can relax and enjoy this truly remarkable environment which offers a lifestyle of quality that captures the very essence of outdoor living.

With its spectacular surroundings, magnificent colonial Club House and golfing facilities, a visit to Desert Springs is well worth the visit.
